

Unwritten Science Seems to Have Never Existed

Saeed Safari

Emergency Department, Shohadaye Tajrish Hospital, Shahid Beheshti University of Medical Sciences, Tehran, Iran.

Corresponding Author: Saeed Safari; Emergency Department, Shohadaye Tajrish Hospital, Tajrish Square, Tehran, Iran.
Tel: 00989128251535; Fax: 00982122721155; Email: safari266@gmail.com

Abstract

After successful launching of the first English Journal in the field of emergency medicine named "Emergency" in 2013, the emergency medicine department of Shahid Beheshti University of Medical Sciences has attempted to publish the first Persian language journal named "Iranian Journal of Emergency Medicine". This journal is a quarterly journal that will publish articles in the field of emergency medicine including: all internal and operational emergencies, critical care, disaster medicine, trauma, environmental diseases, toxicology and forensic medicine, pediatric emergency medicine, emergency medical services, emergency nursing, health policy and ethics, and other related topics. Believing that public access to information can lead to easier exchange and faster development and production of science, the policy makers of this journal adhere to open access policy.
