March-April 2019 Best Reviewer of the Issue – Zohreh Nazmara

Zohreh Nazmara

Zohreh Nazmara has already completed her Ph.D. degree in anatomical science at IUMS (Iran University of Medical Science), Tehran, Iran, however she has collaborated with her supervisors as an advisor in their team in the fertility health field. She has published some papers and books in international accredited journals. She received two research award from ASC (Addiction Science Congress) and EZAMA (Esmail Zamanian Addiction Medicine Award), which is the most prestigious award in addiction medicine in Iran.

I have published a paper in Urology Journal, thus it was an interesting time when I was selected to review in this journal. Being a reviewer can raise our scientific insight as a researcher and help us to have dynamic thinking. Fortunately, as an Iranian researcher, I understand the present research situation and I try to focus on positive points of papers.
